Alumni Spotlight: Maggie Kearnan '10

Maggie Kearnan's original play, Idawalley, recently kicked off the Boston College Theatre Department's lineup of productions for the spring semester.

The play is inspired by the life of female lighthouse keeper Idawalley Lewis of Newport, Rhode Island. Kearnan's play follows the life of Lewis and her family on Lime Rock: maintaining the lighthouse while facing ghosts from their past, as well as the changing times and what they portend.

Alumni Spotlight: Abby O'Donnell Husselbee '12

The Climate Club hosted guest speaker Abby O'Donnell Husselbee. Abby shared her path from AC to her current position at the Harvard Law School Environmental & Energy Law Program. She described how her legal research supports those striving to improve environmental issues. She also gave suggestions for student projects both in school and locally. Our students asked great questions after the presentation. We look forward to Abby visiting our club again this spring!

If you would also like to work with the Climate Club for environmental topics, community projects, and/or video production, please contact JoAnn Passeri at jpasseri@achs.net. Thank you again, Abby!

Cougars...We Need Your Help!

Arlington Catholic's faculty is currently engaged in a self-study in preparation for the New England Association of Schools and College's decennial accreditation visit, scheduled for April 7-10, 2024. In order to obtain a broad and representative pool of feedback for analysis, we are requesting, from various members of our school community (teachers, parents, students, and alumni), the completion of a survey.

As a graduate of AC, your input and perspective is most important to the accreditation process. We encourage you to complete the survey, which will take approximately 15 minutes. Please note, the closing date for submittal is Monday February 27. Please contact John Balliro at jballiro@achs.net or Edward Rosa at erosa@achs.net with any questions.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated participation and feedback!
